

Moatfield Surgery - Charges for Non-NHS Services

The NHS provides most health care to people free of charge, but there are exceptions. Prescription charges, for instance, have existed since 1951, and there are a number of other services for which fees are charged. In some cases it is because the service isn't covered by the NHS, for example, medical reports for insurance companies, claims on private health insurance and other letters and forms which require the doctor to review the patient's medical records. It is important to understand that GP's are not employed by the NHS, they are self-employed, and they have to cover their costs - staff, buildings, heating, lighting etc- in the same way as any small business. The NHS pays the doctor for specific NHS work, but not for non-NHS work.
